State Says Money Ready for Housing Here Blind Writer Urges Labor Racket Probe

RECREATIONAL SITE FOR IBM—International Business Machines Corporation announced today that it will begin this year the gradual development of country club and recreational facilities for Kingston employees and their families on the site purchased for this purpose last year. The property comprises approximately 300 square acres (outlined in above photo) of rolling and partially wooded land in the vicinity of Route 32 and Ulster Landing road. The Country Club building, when completed, will contain a gymnasium and stage, bowling alleys, rooms for junior and senior activity, nursery and coffee shop. Kitchen facilities will be available for special employee events. Outdoor facilities now contemplated include picnic area and playground, recreation area, parking space and access roads. IBM has employee recreational facilities at its plants in Endicott and Poughkeepsie.

Tax Cut Not Probable In '56, Says Rayburn

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex.) said today he regards a 1956 tax cut as "a possibility but not a probability" even though the prospective mid-year surplus has been boosted by more than 1½ billion dollars.

That seemed the consensus among other congressional leaders in the wake of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey's announcement last night that the June 30 federal surplus is now estimated at $1,828,000,000. The last previous administration calculation, in January was 230 million.

Key members of both parties on the House Ways and Means Committee, which initiates tax legislation, for the most part supported President Eisenhower's stand for applying any such surplus to paying off the national debt ahead of tax reduction.

Democratic leaders, however, were keeping a sharp eye on future fiscal moves of the Eisenhower administration. They were ready to move quickly with tax-cutting legislation of their own if the administration should indicate any intention of initiating a tax reduction program.

Only a few hours earlier, congressional tax experts forecast a surplus of $2,300,000,000 for 1956 and a surplus of $2,200,000,000 for next year. Humphrey made no forecast for fiscal 1957, starting July 1.

"A balanced budget, for which the President has been striving for three years, now appears assured for the 1956 fiscal year," Humphrey and Brundage said.

"On the basis of our new estimates it is expected that budget

Orchard Damage Light In Three Ulster Areas

Apple blossoms in the Ulster area will be at their peak this weekend, according to William H. Palmer, county agricultural agent, who said that only superficial damage was caused by Wednesday night's sub-freezing temperatures.

Palmer spoke to about 300 area fruit growers Wednesday night, following his spot check of orchards, during a conference at Hurd's Fruit Station plant in southern Ulster county.

The agent's report said damage was caused to orchards in New Paltz, Modena and Clintondale.

Later today a spokesman at the Ulster County Extension Service Agricultural Department told The Freeman that the full extent of the damage would not be determined until blossoms set up for apple formations.

Complaints of damage to some crops throughout the state were mixed with a report from a Champlain Valley grower who said the cold had actually been beneficial to his crop.

Roger Forrence, part-owner of Extensive Apple Orchards, near Peru, explained that the cold had delayed the blossoms.

"If the blossoms were out, they would have been damaged Wednesday night," Forrence said.

According to an Associated Press story from Lockport, N. Y., this morning, budding apple trees in a western four-county area were reported undamaged following the cold snap.

Other fruit and vegetable crops were less fortunate, however, the AP story said.

the sweet cherry crop in the area was nipped in the bud.

Daniel Dalrymple, an apple producer and secretary of the New York State Horticulture Society, said that growers were still keeping their fingers crossed, but that temperatures would have to linger in the 24- to 30 range to seriously affect the crop.

Low temperatures Wednesday night averaged about 28 in the counties of Niagara, Orleans, Wayne and Monroe, which produce the bulk of the approximately 9,000,000 bushels coming from western New York. The state crop reaches 16 millions.

GOP Is Urged to Reelect Ike for Prosperity, Peace

Buffalo, N. Y., May 18 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen has called upon the Republican party to make a "dedicated" effort to "unite the people" for the reelection of President Eisenhower and the continuance of "the most prosperous age in our entire history."

Stassen, special assistant to the President on disarmament, said last night that the Republican party "should be humbly thankful for the privilege of serving as the vehicle through which President Dwight David Eisenhower serves all the people of America."

The former governor of Minnesota spoke at a $50-a-plate fundraising dinner of the Erie county Republican committee which was attended by more than 700 persons.

State GOP Chairman L. Judson Morhouse, in another speech, said that leading Dem-

Puerto Rico Industry Booms

Atlantic City, N. J., May 18 (AP)—Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico said today growing industrialism in that commonwealth will boost the standard of living within 20 years to the current level enjoyed in the United States.

He said that for the first time in Puerto Rico's history industrial production will have outstripped agricultural production at the end of this month.

Bid on Orpheum Is Turned Down

Mayor Stang today turned down a bid of $8,000 for the Orpheum Theatre building and approved the sale of 21 other city-owned properties which brought a total of $3,440 in bidding at a May 10 auction conducted by City Clerk Bernhard S. Kramer.

The mayor said the bid was disapproved because of "insufficiency." He pointed out that $12,000 to $13,000 was due the city for back taxes on the property. The city assessor's office reported the property assessed at $40,000.

THE TOP BID on the Orpheum was by Hyman Green, span, of 246 Pearl street, secretary-treasurer of Miron Building Products, Inc.

Mayor Stang said he also felt that because the building is "well constructed" and other costs on it are due the city that money should be regained.

THE MAYOR'S statement said:

"The bid for the Orpheum Theatre was disapproved because of insufficiency. This is a well-constructed building and in my opinion worth a great deal more than the amount bid.

"There is due on this piece of

Passage Seen For Revenues On Road Bill

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) predicted today Congress will vote enough revenues to cover all the spending on the big new highway construction program.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told the Senate Finance Committee that in 10 of the 16 years of the projected program spending would exceed tax yields assigned to the roads.

HE ASKED the committee to amend the House bill so that expenditures would not exceed outlays in any one year, asserting that only in this way could there be a "real spend-as-you-build" plan.

Kerr, a finance committee member, told a reporter today Humphrey "is just guessing this will not be done," and he added: "The bill in my judgment states as clearly as it can be done that there will be a balance of expenditures and revenues."

THE FINANCE Committee continues hearings on the tax features of the measure today, with a dozen witnesses representing highway user and industry groups scheduled to appear. Humphrey noted that his proposal would force a slower rate of spending on the highway program in its later years, or else require Congress to levy new taxes to make up prospective deficits in that period, 1962-71.

But Kerr said Congress would have many opportunities to look at the highway program again and revise it both as to spending and revenues in line with needs of future years.

HE COMMENTED that the authorizations on three of the

Riesel Praises Honest Leaders

New York, May 18 (AP)—Victor Riesel, crusading labor columnist blinded by an acid attack, urges a Congressional probe of "the underworld of the labor movement."

At a hospital news conference yesterday, six weeks to the day after an unidentified assailant threw sulphuric acid into his eyes, the 41-year-old syndicated newspaper writer said:

"THERE HAS GOT to be a federal investigation of labor racketeering which infests unions."

"It should be by friends of labor, like Senators Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), Irving Ives (R-N. Y.), or Styles Bridges (R-N. H.), or their counterparts in Congress."

"If it is carried on by men of good will it will command the respect of both sides, and the mobs can't say they're being persecuted by the government."

Wearing white surgical pads over his eyes, Riesel gestured vigorously as he talked with some 50 newsmen.

"I'M NOT sensitive about the fact that I'm blind," he said. "I can't see but I can hear and I can feel."

Riesel, saying he expected to leave the hospital early next week, added:

"The day after I leave I will return to my office and my typewriter and will bang out my column as I always have."

For the past 10 years Riesel has been labor columnist for the New York Daily Mirror and about 190 other newspapers throughout the nation.

"I WILL WRITE my column as long as people will read it," Riesel continued. "The same underworld crowd that hit me will be the same underworld crowd I will continue to fight."

"They have not scared me. They blinded me but it will not keep me from writing the same type of column as before."

Riesel said he was not indicting all unions, and he praised George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO. Riesel's column has been continued by his staff while he was in the hospital.

"The waterfront is not the only place you have a tough mob," Riesel said.

HE SPECIFICALLY mentioned the Union of Operating Engineers, the construction trades and the Garment and Teamsters Unions.

Early April 5, Riesel had just emerged from a Broadway restaurant accompanied by Miss Betty Nevins, an assistant, when an unidentified assailant threw acid in his face.

Only an hour earlier, Riesel, in a guest appearance on a radio broadcast, conducted interviews with rebellious members of a Long Island Operating Engineers Union local. The union as-

$400,000 Fire At Fallsburgh

Fallsburgh, N. Y., May 18 (AP)—Two buildings on the property of the Hotel Nemerson were destroyed by fire early today.

Village Policeman Leonard Runnalls estimated damage at $400,000.

The Sullivan County Resort Hotel, across a road, was not endangered. Guests have started arriving at the hotel for the spring season.

The destroyed buildings were two-story frame structures—one housing the hotel staff living quarters, a canteen and a bar and an adjoining one housing a theatre seating 1,000 and a combination dance hall and basketball court.

Firemen from Monticello and Hurleyville aided Fallsburgh firemen in fighting the blaze. The cause was not immediately determined.

The hotel is owned by Abe Nemerson.

Hot Shoppes Are Still Picketed

Fred Ferrara, president of Local 11, Hotel & Restaurant Employees Union, AFL-CIO, reported today that "round the clock picketing of Hot Shoppes restaurant units on the New York State Thruway entered the tenth day with no apparent hope of settlement in sight."

THE UNION charges that Hot Shoppes, which have been awarded food concessions between Yonkers and Albany by Thruway Authority, has created "an iron curtain around restaurant employees and prohibited Local 11 organizers from soliciting employees to join the union."

Local 11 charges also that Hot Shoppes is a "southern anti-union organization and will never conform to the labor policies of the state of New York." The union also charges, according to Ferrara, that the company has used force and intimidation to deny their employees the privilege of listening to the union's program.

The union claims two-thirds of Thruway restaurants from Albany to Buffalo operate under union contracts, signed by Union News Company and Restaurant Associates with Local 11.

Commissioner Advises Application by City

Joseph P. McMurray, Commissioner of Housing for the State of New York, today said if the Kingston Common Council approves an application for public housing, "it will be received favorably" and acted upon by the authority in due course. He indicated the money was available now and this was the opportune time to act.

Archbishop Rummel Gets Cross Threat

An eight-foot gasoline-soaked wooden cross burned on grounds near the residence of Catholic Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel in New Orleans, La., last night, according to a report from the Associated Press.

Archbishop Rummel is well known to older residents of Kingston, having served as pastor of St. Peter's Church, Wurts street, from 1906 to 1916. The parochial school on Adams street was built during his pastorate.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS said a passing motorist noticed the burning cross in front of Notre Dame Seminary and summoned firemen who quickly doused it. The cross was propped against a wire fence in front of the seminary which adjoins the archbishop's residence.

The burning came on the second anniversary of the U. S. Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools. The high court's decision was given on May 17, 1954.

THE ARCHBISHOP has come under fire from some Catholic laymen's groups in recent months for his opposition to racial segregation.

In a pastoral letter three months ago, which reflected the teachings of the Catholic church, the archbishop condemned racial segregation as "morally wrong and sinful" and indicated its end was in sight in parochial schools.

The archbishop recently ordered the Pro-Segregation Assn. of Catholic Laymen, Inc., to disband. The group acceded to the order, but said it would appeal the decision to the Holy See, highest body in the Catholic church. In his decision, the archbishop indicated excommunication would be the punishment if the group did not disband.

POLICE SAID there was no

Four Arrested by FBI In Theft of Document

Newark, N. J., May 18 (AP)—Three businessmen and an air force sergeant were arrested by the FBI yesterday in the theft of a secret government document—but a defense lawyer said today it was far from a spy case.

The FBI, in announcing the arrests, gave the case an aura of mystery by refusing to describe the document or tell what degree of classification it bore.

The FBI charged the sergeant with stealing the document and the other three with conspiracy. All were released under bond.

But early today, U. S. Commissioner Thomas W. Ciochese, who arraigned one of the businessmen, said he thought the document was "a classified list of army or air force personnel."

Later, William Furst, attorney representing the two owners of a uniform and emblem firm, expressed the same view, saying such a list could be used for direct mail solicitation by the firm.

"Apparently they obtained mailing lists of military personnel so they could be solicited for uniforms," Furst said. "This has been blown up fantastically into an apparent case of espionage when nothing could be further from the truth."

The third businessman, a snapshot shop operator, said he merely had an employee copy of the document Wednesday in a "regular business transaction."

The sergeant is an eight-year air force veteran now stationed at the Passenger Movement Division of the Brooklyn Army Terminal.

Sgt. Harold E. Brill, 28, was

Dolores LaTorre Crowned May Queen at KHS Today

Despite inclement weather outside, all was beauty and serene at the Kate Walton Field House this morning when May Queen Dolores LaTorre reigned over the traditional May Day exercises staged by students of Kingston High School.

The lovely May Queen was escorted to her throne as the KHS band played the processional. Attending Queen Dolores was Miss Judy Van Gaasbeck, maid of honor.

Members of the queen's court were the Misses Claire McMahon, Ruth Hart, Lola Gray, Elizabeth Harlow, Beverly Thomas and Diane Mower.

Candy Shiels and Virginia Mae Miller were the train bearers; Johnny LaTorre, nephew of the queen, was crown-bearer.

Following a speech of welcome to the guests at the traditional ceremonies, an event dating back to 1905 when the local community was introduced to the May Day exercises at Old Kingston Academy, Prime Minister Robert Bareika crowned the queen amid the usual pomp and ceremony.

Accompanying Prime Minister Bareika to the throne near Queen Dolores were banner-bearers Thomas Fleming and Alo Saluste.

After the coronation, Queen Dolores distributed roses to the various team captains.

Queen Dolores and Prime Minister Bareika were then honored by presentation of the annual exercises staged under the guidance of G. Warren Kias, athletic director at KHS and John Gil-

UJA Appeal Will Be Held Sunday

Some 100 volunteers will be soliciting contributions Sunday on behalf of the Kingston United Jewish Welfare Fund. The annual drive to collect a "once a year" contribution for the many local, national and overseas beneficiaries of the Kingston campaign will be keyed to the all-day solicitation.

In addition to the United Jewish Appeal, serving the needs of the new immigrant to Israel and other lands, the local Jewish Community Council allocates funds to maintain the work of the Council and many nearby health and welfare services for needy and deserving persons, many of these agencies serving on a non-sectarian basis. Schools of higher learning, inter-faith work and youth services are also supported through the results of this one drive for funds.

Benjamin Schacter, general chairman of this year's campaign, will be fielding the largest number of workers ever to turn out on the kickoff day. As chairman of the workers division, Aaron Klein will be headquartered at the Jewish Community Center to answer questions, aid his captains and team members and guide the operation of the project.

Seven teams will be asking for contributions. Many of the new residents within the Jewish Community will be solicited for the first time in an endeavor to gain as wide a public support for the 1956 drive. Additional funds are requested to enable the United Jewish Appeal to rescue an additional 40,000 North African Jews and bring them to a new life in Israel this year.

In order to accomplish this mission, the solicitors pledged an additional 25 per cent above their gifts for 1955 and will attempt to impress upon the members of the Kingston Jewish Community, the urgency of the plight of North African Jewry and the need for the rescue mission.

The Jewish Community Council welcomes all gifts to the United Jewish Welfare Fund of Kingston, which may be sent to the Council at 265 Wall street.

THE FOREIGN RAT HOLE

When Lincoln was a young lawyer, he told his partner that "there is a rat hole worth looking into" in the corner of their law office.

"Child Harold" Stassen and other international bleeding hearts are asking for still more money for "foreign aid"—$4,859,975,000 next year.

This is a bigger rat hole than the one in Lincoln's office. Let's look into it.

We are short of school houses. At $250,000 each, this rat hole would build about 19,436 new school houses, or more than six in every one of the 3,000 counties in the U. S. A.

$4,859,975,000 amounts to an average tax of about $30 for every man, woman and child. Maybe you live in a big city, or in a small village of 1,000 people that needs a new school house, has no hospital, no doctor, no sewer system and only one paved street.

These 1,000 people already have all they can do to pay their taxes. On the average, this foreign rat hole would cost them $30,000 next year.

I know an even smaller village in Vermont, with only 415 people. Altogether, they pay local and state taxes totaling $30,600. Would they vote in town meeting to tax themselves another $12,450 to spend at home? They would not. Yet, that is what this foreign rat hole will cost them, on the average, if Congress approves.

Since the war ended, we have spent over $50,000,000,000 all over the world. Has it bought us friends, security or peace? Neighbor, has this rat hole no bottom?

Mr. Hutton

Show 13 Per Cent Savings Increase

Savings in the state's 236 savings associations have increased $312,972,028, or 13.7 per cent, in the past 12 months, according to the Savings Association League of New York state. At the end of April, this source revealed total savings had reached an all-time high of $2,594,777,349.

An increase in net savings of $23,468,337 was registered during that month, David Ford, president of the League, announced. "The total amount of new savings received in April," he said, "was $92,739,402. This exceeded April, 1955 by $6,830,531 a gain of eight per cent. However, withdrawals also rose in comparison with last April, being $69,271,065. They went up $6,414,572, or 10.2 per cent.

"THE WITHDRAWAL ratio for the month was 74.7 per cent. This was slightly higher than for the same month of 1955. However, the turnover rate of 2.7 per cent was lower than it was a year ago."

During the first four months of 1956, Mr. Ford added, these institutions took in $421,182,582 in new savings. They paid out in the same period $325,864,661 of previously accumulated savings. "The resulting increase of $95,317,921 in total savings," he declared, "surpassed the comparable gain by $20,985,868 during the same period of 1955."

"These figures are encouraging in two ways. First, they show that New York State families are continuing to save, despite the expansion in consumer buying. Second, since the gains are modest, they indicate no sudden swing toward saving at the expense of normal living. A steeper climb in net savings might indicate fear of a recession which consumers invariably register by setting money aside instead of spending at their accustomed rate."

Woman Injured In 2-Car Crash

A Port Ewen woman was injured in a two-car collision Thursday afternoon at the corner of Clinton avenue and Franklin street, police reported.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sanford, 50, of Salem Court, suffered injuries to her right forehead, right knee, right side of her head and right shin, the report said. She was to be treated by her own physician, police reported.

Mrs. Sanford was a passenger in a 1956 sedan owned and operated by Dr. Lester E. Sanford, 62, same address, which was traveling north on Clinton avenue. Police said the Sanford vehicle was in collision with a 1954 sedan owned and operated by John W. Landers, 22, of 18 Ora place, headed east on Franklin street.

The Sanford car sustained damage to the complete front end and other hidden damages while the Landers vehicle was damaged on the right front fender and grill, the report said. Both cars were towed from the scene.

They were arraigned before Kiscaras and released in $5,000 bail each on charges of conspiracy to steal government property.

Byrnat Ernest Schreiber, 43, owner of Schreiber's Snapshot Service, Linden, N. J., was picked up at his home at Millburn, N. J.

He waived a hearing when he appeared before Commissioner Clohosey at Millburn police headquarters and also was released in $5,000 bail on a conspiracy charge.

The charges were brought against all four under the theft of government property statute which provides penalties ranging from three to five years in prison and fines from $2,000 to $10,000.

four federal aid roads systems run for only two years in the House bill, although there is a declaration of intent covering a 13-year period. In the Senate version, the authorization for the three systems runs five years.

House sponsors have said they were making no effort to balance revenues against spending for each separate year of the road building effort. They said that for the entire 16-year financing period, three years longer than the planned construction time, the program would be in balance.

The House bill calls for new taxes to raise nearly 15 billion dollars over the 16 years. It contemplates total federal-state highway spending of 51½ billion dollars.

A separate bill passed last year, containing no new taxes, calls for a 37-billion-dollar program with some authorizations running 13 years, and others 5 years.

TRUTH IRRITATES THE BEAR

It would be impossible to find a less war-minded general in the service of free men than Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Thus when Russia assails him as "belligerent" the comment is merely self-revealing.

The attack on Gruenther by the Soviet newspaper Pravda represents a resort to that old Communist trick: calling the truth a lie and a lie the truth.

In this case Pravda accused the NATO commander of "running amuck," threatening to "hurl atomic bombs."

What Gruenther really said was that Soviet aggression against any NATO member would be countered by atomic weapons delivered by a variety of means.

The general irritated Moscow further by declaring that the Soviet policy of "co-existence smiles" is aimed at lulling NATO members to sleep while the Soviet Union goes on magnifying its military power.

To this Pravda snapped: "Unsavory . . . vicious fabrications . . . deliberate falsehoods." The journal went on to say that Gruenther's remarks amounted to an effort to obstruct the lessening of world tensions.

The general of course spoke the truth, and nothing is more infuriating to a Russian. And in that fantastic way of theirs, the Communists lent confirmation to his argument at the very moment they were seeking to refute it.

Pravda boasted, as have Soviet leaders earlier, that "on the globe today there is no militarily important object or military base of significance that is inaccessible to modern technical means of warfare."

Put in simpler words that means Russia believes it soon can send guided missiles with atomic warheads to any spot on earth. Since this constitutes acknowledgement that they are working hard on this decisive weapon, it is difficult to see how they are contributing effectively to the lessening of world tensions.

What the Kremlin construes as "lessening of tensions" is a letting down of the West's guard so that Russia can either by military action or the threat of it add to its area of conquest. This is the very thing Gruenther hopes to avoid. He spoke out with the aim of stiffening the sagging interest and effort of the NATO countries.

Gruenther is a true man of peace, who knows that war or non-violent conquest of free man can be averted only by their remaining strong.

AVERELL'S ON THE WARPATH

On his most recent swing through the West, New York's Gov. Averell Harriman dropped the post that he is an "inactive" candidate for the presidency and became an avowed entry for the Democratic nomination.

Harriman made the switch in a thoroughly explicit statement. But even if he hadn't, the change in his self-defined status would have been apparent.

For in Montana he allowed himself to be initiated as a member of the Blackfeet Indian tribe, and that is a sure tip-off. You can do a lot of things and hold the "inactive" pose. But when you start trading monosyllables with the Indians, or taking tribal membership, the jig is up. That's presidential stuff and everybody knows it.

IN A SENTENCE

Governor Elmo Smith of Oregon, in discussing a proposed tax program, covered a problem of national scope in this single sentence: "Too many people think, in the back of their minds, that a tax is something someone else should pay, and a service is something they should receive."

Individuals and groups and organizations of every kind are trying to pay as little in taxes as possible—and, at the same time, trying to get as much special privilege from government as possible.

So long as that attitude prevails we will have wasteful, exorbitantly expensive government—along with a dangerous degree of political domination of our lives and pursuits.

HOW MUCH FOREIGN AID?

To the taxpayer, foreign aid is his contribution to national defense year after year, limiting his prospects of establishing a family reservoir of savings. Therefore, foreign aid has to justify itself by what it accomplishes in terms of the national defense. Its charitable phases have not been stressed by those who favor the program.

There are those who argue that foreign aid has some higher and nobler motive such as the redistribution of wealth from the richest nation on Earth, meaning the United States, to the weak and backward countries that have accomplished little with whatever advantages they may have. This noble cause is highly commendable as long as we have the money but for nearly a decade now, under such titles as the Marshall Plan, Mutual Security, Economic Development, Point IV, Defense Support, etc., etc., we have been spending tremendous sums of money and the question arises, what have we got for it?

By the end of the fiscal year 1956, the economic and military aid, contributed by the American taxpayer, will amount to approximately $55,800,000,000, according to the investigations of the Hoover Commission. Thirty-four agencies of the government are "directly or indirectly engaged in or related to foreign aid." This goes far beyond the conception of most Americans, few of whom realize that the amount is so gigantic. The Hoover Commission found that 11,250 persons were employed in the distribution of this money of whom 84,569 were not Americans. The aid goes to 55 countries and involves about 2,000 projects.

Although there is considerable opposition to the continuance of aid of this enormous scale, the Administration actually proposes increases which they justify as competition with Soviet Russia. Heretofore, Soviet Russia only aided its own satellite countries, but since Khrushchev has taken over, Soviet Russia is engaged on a salesmanship of aid, seeking to outdo the United States.

While Soviet Russia gives the impression that it engages in these financial enterprises with no strings attached, it actually has worked out an unusually ingenious method of utilizing experts as propagandists and while appearing to apply a doctrine of non-interference in the domestic affairs of a country, it uses the native Communist Party for exactly the purpose of taking control of a country's affairs.

The Hoover Commission strongly advises against "Making loans to countries to support their defense, which they cannot repay. . . . Such a loan 'only creates future difficulties and misleads the American taxpayers, as they are not a recoverable asset. Where there is no prospect of repayment, outright grants should be made, and they can be better controlled.'"

The Hoover Commission also recommended that when grants or loans are made " . . . an inspection service to insure complete adherence to the policies, objectives, and programs for each country . . ." should be established. One of the recommendations of the Hoover Commission is to send many of our representatives abroad who play at being big-shots. The recommendation is:

"That the overseas nonmilitary personnel of United States agencies be subject to the line authority and direction of the United States Chief of Diplomatic Mission in each country."

Certain recommendations of the Hoover Commission are of tremendous importance, as, for instance:

"That as all the countries in the original North Atlantic Treaty Organization have the highest degree of technical proficiency, the technical assistance by American personnel in these countries should cease.

"That as the original North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries are well able to send technical staffs to the United States at their own expense, the United States should cease to pay for this service."

"That the economic aid should be granted for projects or undertakings where private investment capital is available for such projects. . . ."

"That, as recommended in our Surplus Property Report, we emphasize the desirability of using excess and surplus property in connection with our foreign assistance programs."

It is interesting to note that all but one member of the Task Force on Overseas Economic Operations of the Hoover Commission had had some direct relationship to this problem and therefore any suggestion that their studies were theoretical and their recommendations impractical does not bear the test of study and investigation. ### DIZZINESS AND VERTIGO

The terms dizziness and vertigo are often used interchangeably. However, vertigo may be defined as a sensation of going round and round, whereas dizziness has a different meaning for different individuals. The sensation of dizziness may be described in such terms as lightheadedness, giddiness, faintness, unsteadiness, or even as "specks before the eyes." To distinguish between the two is not too important since the treatment of either may be the same, depending on what is causing them.

Dr. Cecil M. Charles, Washington University School of Medicine, says that a careful history of the case is most important in determining the cause of dizziness. Occurrence of headache, fainting, numbness and diplopia (seeing things double) frequently indicates central nervous system disease. If the patient complains of ringing in the ears or deafness, the ears should be suspected. Other important points to know: if there has been any discharge of the ears, serious diseases, upper respiratory infections, accidents, drug intake, use of tobacco or alcohol, and occupational hazards, a complete physical examination should be made with special attention to the heart and blood vessels, central nervous system, hearing, and eyes.

"General organic disease (true disease of an organ) as a cause of dizziness should be ruled out, otherwise treatment of dizziness will most likely be ineffective. Among the diseases to be suspected are those of the heart and blood vessels, anemia, central nervous system disease, diabetes, and insufficient thyroid juice."

About 35 per cent of cases of dizziness are caused by general organic disease, 40 per cent by Meniere's syndrome (congestion and inflammation of the canals in the ears), about 9 per cent by patients with low blood pressure, about 9 per cent by high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries or those showing evidence of intoxication from drugs or infection.

Treatment is directed first at controlling the attack and then removing the cause. For an acute attack, atropine, gr. 1/75 injected into the muscles has been found to be most effective in preventing the nausea and vomiting that so frequently accompany dizziness. Hyoscine and some of its compounds have been used for years in motion sickness remedies. More recently various histamines, such as Dramamine, in dosage of 50 to 100 mg. every four hours, or Bonamine, in dosage of 25 to 50 mg. every four hours have been found most effective.

Two agents which dilate the blood vessels, nicotinic acid and histamine, have helped many cases. Of these nicotinic acid is the more popular as it can be taken by mouth.

So far as diet is concerned a low salt diet is recommended along with ammonium chloride which prevents too much fluid accumulating in the body. Excess salt is thought by some to make an individual more sensitive to cold. In some cases psychotherapy has been found useful.

If symptoms persist after thorough medical treatment, surgery may be considered, usually on a portion of the inner ear, but so far surgery has not been successful in removing all the symptoms.

"Seems Like Yesterday You Were So High"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA) — The Eisenhower administration and the Republican party go into the six-months' period before election feeling that the country is in a pretty good position businesswise—in spite of complaints—with the economy in balance.

There are both inflationary and deflationary pressures. This is considered a good thing for the country as a whole, though it is tough on anyone who gets caught under one or the other of the pressures.

Farming and the auto industry are regarded as the two weakest lines, with definite deflationary influences. Much of the inflationary influence is traced primarily to the steel industry. These three account for a good share of the total economy. What happens to them affects every other line.

Auto trouble is blamed on the industry itself. It built too many cars last year and tried to force them on the market. This was obvious in December.

ATTENDANCE at this year's auto shows was good, however. The industry thought there would be a pickup—first in January, then March, then May. Now it is recognized it may not come till fall. Auto layoffs cut down trade in other lines and so are deflationary.

Administration leaders look with great hope on recent farm price increases, though they haven't been much. It is felt that farmers are more interested in good cash prices than they are in parity or supports.

There is considerable reliance on the belief that good farmers don't want to see artificially high prices. They are said to bring too many city "suitcase" farmers into the field to over-produce, create surpluses, drive cash prices down.

The drive on and in Congress to give the farmers more cash income immediately is more political than economic. But so long as farm prices are depressed, they are deflationary in that they curtail buying by farmers.

THE BIG INFLATIONARY pressure in steel comes from what industry leaders regard as a position in which they can't lose in the new steel wage negotiations ahead.

If union demands are high and the industry won't meet them, it could result in a strike. Steel strikes are usually long. Such a tieup would cause a rise in prices for available supplies of steel to keep other industries going.

If union demands are moderate and are met without a strike, there will still be a price rise. Some little steel men advocate it now, without waiting for big steel leadership.

But both possibilities promote steel buying to build up inventories, thus causing inflationary pressure.

There is an admitted difference of opinion between Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey and Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin, Jr., on what to do.

Humphrey took the view that conflicting inflationary and deflationary pressures were more or less in balance. If let alone, money would correct themselves in time.

DIRECTORS in 11 of the 12 Federal Reserve Districts felt that the great drive for business expansion—sparked by the demand for steel which goes into almost every line of business—needed some further curtailment.

This is what lay behind the recent fifth increase in Federal Reserve discount rates. In the past year they have gone up from 1½ per cent to 2½ and 3 per cent. This has been passed on in higher interest rates banks charge their borrowers.

In some cases, big companies with long-established credit lines have been asked to reduce their borrowings by half. And they have been charged as much as 5½ per cent for what they did get. Consequently they're screaming at Washington for a relaxation of credit restrictions.

Chairman Martin defends the FRB action as necessary to curb inflation. But the spectacle of big business criticizing Republican fiscal policy in an election year is unique.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, May 17 — The budget of the government of the United States is $66 billions. The national debt is $275 billions.

In 1932, Franklin D. Roosevelt campaigned for his first term as President on an issue of extravagance and economy. In a landmark speech in Pittsburgh on October 19, 1932, Roosevelt gave a solemn promise "to reduce the current cost of federal government operations by 25 percent." About a half year later, Roosevelt tore up the script on which he had won the election and power and went all out for extravagance.

The only challenge came from a few newspapers which ran plaintive editorials reminding the people of Roosevelt's false promises, and from political figures of the discredited opposition.

The people had no means of expressing their thoughts, but there was no public outcry at all. The whole country was confused and when Roosevelt handed Harry Ickes $3,300 million to squander at will the reaction was emotional. Whoever objected to this humane generosity doubtless was an economic royalist who would let the hungry masses starve.

In that Pittsburgh speech, Roosevelt warned the nation against the usurpation of power by the national administration. He said the Republicans under Herbert Hoover had decided "to center control of everything in Washington as rapidly as possible—federal control."

"That," he said, "was the idea that increased the cost of government by a billion dollars in four years. Ever since the days of Thomas Jefferson, that has been the exact reverse of the Democratic concept, which is to permit Washington to take from the states nothing more than is necessary to keep abreast of the march of our changing economic

Today in World Affairs

Sukarno Is Seen as Ignoring Threat of Russians in Talk

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 18—President Sukarno of Indonesia, is a likable person, but his speech to a joint session of Congress was astonishing for what it omitted.

Nowhere in the address was there even a brief mention of the biggest menace to the freedom and independence of Indonesia itself — namely, the potential threat of an aggressor coalition comprising Soviet Russia and Red China.

Is it conceivable that Mr. Sukarno purposely avoided all reference to the Communists and talked about political independence and how foreign aid should be granted his country without realizing that the whole Western world is gravely concerned about the military situation in both Europe and Asia?

THE INDONESIAN leader is confronted by thirty-nine Communists in his Parliament and there is infiltration by the Communists in the other political parties, too. In fact, money from Red China financed the campaign of the Communists in the recent elections in Indonesia.

Yet it is clear from Mr. Sukarno's speech that he has swallowed hook, line and sinker the Communist claim that America seeks to interfere in the internal affairs of his country when it grants aid. Unfortunately, too many so-called "liberals" in America and others who have been guilty of petty partisanship have criticized their own government by echoing this same Communist line not only as to Indonesia but other lands as well.

What could America possibly want of Indonesia except the new nation's own best interests—defense against the aggression of Communist Russia and Communist China? If Malaysia goes Communist, the Soviets can soon begin to seize portions of Indonesia. The new Republic of Indonesia is an island empire. It has no navy of its own. If it cannot rely on the navies of the West—Great Britain, France and the United States—how can it be protected, and how can its continuance as an independent country be assured?

Mr. Sukarno reveals his distrust to the West in the following paragraph of his speech:

"THE APPROACH to the question of foreign aid should be based upon different principles in different countries. Without adequate knowledge of those countries, and even if your motives in granting aid were solely the stability of this region, 'buy' all that you can, and the flow of even billions of dollars could lead only to strained relations. Certainly military aid is no substitute for Asian stability. It will only serve to make countries accepting it more dependent upon America, and their worth as genuine partners in the universal struggle for liberty, peace and prosperity will consequently decline."

When Mr. Sukarno says, "even if your motives in granting aid were solely the stability of this region," it may be asked what other possible motive could the United States have? It's the Communists who have been spreading the propaganda attributing to America some selfish purpose in Indonesia—and this in the face of the historic fact that the United States has fought two world wars and has not annexed a single inch of territory as a consequence. Meanwhile, the Soviet empire has annexed country after country and robbed many nations of their independence.

Certainly Indonesia would become dependent on America. In fact, it is dependent militarily today on the United States Navy, which is the only barrier between it and Soviet aggression. It will be recalled that the United States Navy was not powerful enough in 1941 to prevent the sweep southward of the Japanese fleet and the occupation of Indonesia.

MILITARY FACTS are not erased by wishful thinking, and it begins to look as if those in this country who are opposing foreign aid now will have a very valid argument presented to them by the Sukarno speech. For it is evident he is not concerned about the military danger of Soviet aggression and regard America's military defense operations as superfluous. In Congress economic aid is advocated primarily to bolster military aid—to make sure allied countries grow economically stronger.

As for building Indonesia's economy, this is not America's obligation at any time and certainly not if the new republic wants to embrace neutralism. For, unless the peoples themselves in the countries aided want the protection of the Western powers militarily, there is no sense in offering economic aid.

MEMORIES ARE short. The cruel aggression by the Communists in Korea, in defiance of the United Nations, is forgotten by President Sukarno. In the past twenty-four hours, Nasser of Egypt has shown that he also has forgotten that the United States is still at war with Red China. Why should aid for the Aswan Dam or any other project be given Egypt now that it has embraced America's enemy? The United States should never "buy" all that it can, but should help only those countries which fully understand the Communist military menace and sincerely seek to join us in a common defense plan. ## SAUGERTIES NEWS

Choice of Sites For Proposed Schools Reasoned

Saugerties, May 17—This is the fourth in a series of articles being prepared by the Publicity Committee of Saugerties Central School District Building Program. This article is being written to inform the public why the proposed sites were selected for the new school buildings.

Both of the sites, one to be used for the proposed junior-senior high school on Washington avenue, and the other for the elementary school at Mount Marion, were chosen only after the most careful consideration, the committee announcement said.

Five members of the Board of Education considered three locations tentatively. One was rejected because of the nearness to the village dump and the railroad.

Another site is known at the Beers Farm and is located at the northern end of Market street. This, too, was rejected for very sound reasons. Almost one mile of drainage pipes for surface water would have been required. In addition, rights of way across other property would have to be secured, the report said.

The third site, the one selected was the Knaust property located on Washington avenue across from Cantine Memorial Field, centrally located in the school district. About one half of the students can walk to it, keeping down transportation costs.

Proper drainage can easily be arranged because of the nearness to the Sawkill creek. Water and sewage facilities of the village can be utilized. Cantine Field can be used by the athletic teams as an auxiliary field. The plot is large enough to allow for future expansion of the proposed building, or for construction of additional buildings if the necessity should arise. The engineers have made test borings and are prepared to meet all building conditions the report said.

Four members of the Board of Education together with educational consultants from Syracuse University made a careful study of school building needs in the district, and of possible sites. After serious consideration of all factors, it was agreed that an elementary school should be erected in Mount Marion. This school will be used not only by pupils from Mount Marion but by pupils in the surrounding area. Eight possible locations were considered and the most suitable one, the Bert Law farm, was selected, the committee reported.

This site contains about 14 acres and is centrally located for children of the area, in and around Mount Marion. The plot, located on Glasco Turnpike, would allow for proper transportation facilities. Thus the size of the plot, its location, and the terrain would make it most suitable for school building needs, the report said.

Future articles will describe the buildings to be constructed on these sites.

Auxiliary of M-WC Vols to Hold Auction

Saugerties, May 17—An auction of sundry articles will be conducted by the auxiliary of Malden-West Camp Fire Company according to plans formulated at the regular monthly meeting held Tuesday night at West Camp firehouse.

The tentative date for the event has been set for Saturday, June 16, at 1:30 p. m. Arrangements for the serving of refreshments was also discussed and the committee will make a later announcement when the services of an auctioneer has been secured.

Attic, basement and barn accumulations of items from members and friends of the fire company, auxiliary and fire district will be welcomed. The committee announced that every one has some article in good condition which they have no use for and which may be attractive to someone else.

Arrangements will also be made for picking up items if a donor is unable to deliver them.

The Auxiliary voted to discontinue meeting during July and August. The first September meeting would be on the 18th. Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Ruth Jacobsen, Mrs. Mary Krom and Mrs. Margaret Moose.

The refreshment committee for the June 19 meeting will include Mrs. Jennie Notarnicola, Mrs. Jane Simon and Mrs. Gladys Smith.

Washington, May 17 (AP)—The government today gave a qualified okay for states to help major auto producers put their new Supplemental Unemployment Benefit (SUB) plans into effect as scheduled on June 1.

Robert Goodwin, director of the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security, ruled that states may use administrative funds provided by the federal government to supply private employers with certain data necessary to process the payments. However, Goodwin ruled the states can provide this information only to the extent that its issuance "will improve the effectiveness" of the state Unemployment Compensation (UC) system.

State Advises

years and of those about 400 will be under the $13,000 cost price. This indicates a definite need for housing for low income families.

Housing is a problem so big and so complicated he said it needed the cooperation if all groups including private enterprise, government both state and federal as well as local government. The Housing Administration was attempting to carry out the housing program in an over-all scale and devoid of politics. The Eisenhower Commission has given an estimate of $15 billions as the cost of slum clearance, exclusive of any cost of replacements.

Slum clearance is a problem for the smaller communities as well as the large cities and overcrowding in sub-standard areas is acute in smaller communities as well as in the large cities.

In the early afternoon, prices were spread over a tight range that seldom exceeded a point.

A large chicken barbecue will be sponsored by the Kingston Rotary Club on Saturday, Aug. 11, at the Beatty farm on Hurley avenue.

The barbecue is an annual event for which members of the Ulster County 4-H Clubs raise broilers, specially fed and selected for quality. The proceeds of this year's event will be used for a Boy Scout Camp project sponsored by the Kingston and Area Rotary Clubs.

In the past this event was held for Rotary Club members, their wives and invited guests. This year a limited number of tickets will be available for public sale.

All of the work in connection with the barbecue is done by members of the club. William H. Palmer has been named as general chairman. Working committees will be named later. The present equipment and facilities limit each sitting to about 250 persons. Two sittings are planned. It is hoped that the barbecue, as a cooperative project, can be expanded still farther in the future.

Added features this year are, conducted tours of the Beatty farm, including the dairy barns, the old stone houses and the fields of growing crops will be held.

Will Support Ave

Oklahoma City, May 18 (AP)—Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma today described New York Gov. Averell Harriman as a "definite candidate" for the Democratic presidential nomination and said he would personally support him. Gary's announcement came after he had talked by telephone with Harriman from Salt Lake City. Gary said he would not attempt to commit the 28-vote Oklahoma delegation to Harriman or anyone else until he talks to all members of the delegation and with Harriman again. He said Harriman may visit Oklahoma.

Woman Breathed Burnt Particles, Doctor Declares

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 18 (AP)—A murder trial jury has heard medical testimony intended to prove that Mrs. Lloyd Beresford, 35, was alive at the time the fire which killed her was allegedly set by Wells Van Steenberg, 21.

Van Steenberg's trial continues today before a Dutchess county jury.

Dr. Joseph D. Gioia testified yesterday that he found particles of burned material in the dead woman's lungs. He said the particles could have gotten into the lungs only through breathing.

Mrs. Beresford died in a fire in the bedroom of her home at Staatsburg, N. Y.

The prosecution charges that Van Steenberg sprayed Mrs. Beresford with gasoline and set her afire after she surprised him in a $3,500 burglary and fainted.

Case Goes to Jury

New York, May 18 (AP)—The income tax-evasion case against Mrs. Hattie Freeman Dodson, secretary to Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-N.Y.), went to a Federal Court jury today. Mrs. Dodson, calm ever since the trial started 11 days ago, broke down and wept in the arms of her husband after the jury and spectators had left the room. The jury began its deliberations after an hour-and-a-half charge from Judge Irving R. Kaufman.

Archbishop

indication who had ignited the cross.

The archbishop has appointed a committee to study the possibility of integration in lower grades of parochial schools after September. At present the schools in the archdiocese are segregated, as are public schools throughout Louisiana.

The archdiocese embraces southern Louisiana and southern Mississippi.

Several years ago the archbishop ordered all evidences of segregation—such as signs allocating specific sections to Negroes—removed from churches. The order was obeyed but in most predominantly white Catholic churches, Negroes follow the practice of sitting in rear pews.

LAST YEAR, white parishioners at Jesuit Bend, a community south of here, rebelled at the temporary assignment of a Negro pastor at their mission. As a disciplinary action, Archbishop Rummel ordered the mission closed.

At Erath, La., last November, two white women were excommunicated for taking part in the beating of a women teacher giving religious instruction to non-segregated classes in a church school. Bishop Jules Jeanward lifted the ban of excommunication after the women repented but he also warned that similar instances would be punished in the same manner.

During a parents' club meeting in Jesuit High, New Orleans largest Catholic high school, many parents walked out when school officials refused to accept an anti-segregation resolution a few months ago.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

A week does not go by that Tip Roseberry's column, from the Albany Times Union is not sent to me by one of our local readers as it so often covers the Hudson river, old boating days or some other item dear to the hearts of local residents. Just received a column called "Take a second look at 'Old' Newspapers."

This column was sent by Edward Hauprich of 25 Browning terrace in Kingston. Also I notice Mr. Hauprich used the Centennial of Booker T. Washington stamp. I like to have stamps like that with the postmark and date. Anyway quoting from Tip Roseberry's column which should interest many in this locality: "The most famous . . . and most marketable . . . of all old newspapers in this state is the Ulster County Gazette, issue of Jan. 4, 1800. With black borders, it reported the death of George Washington. This is a real collector's item . . . provided it's original."

Mr. Roseberry continues: "But there's the rub. A flood of phoney ones that Ulster County Gazette (printed at Kingston, N. Y.) is around. Hardly a week passes that the State Library is not offered a facsimile copy in hope that it may be the valuable original . . . which would really command a price. Originals of the issue are virtually unknown. One is in existence in the Library of Congress. So many have come to the State Library that it now owns what Mason Tolman, reference librarian, calls "an extensive collection of ersatz Ulster County Gazettes." . . . It seems that a patriotic motive inspired some of the imitations. "The flood of bogus Ulster County Gazettes was issued as souvenirs for the Centennial celebration of the Declaration of Independence in 1876 . . . One way to start a commotion in the State Library (or any library) would be to come strolling in with a bona-fide original of the Ulster County Gazette of Jan. 4, 1800."

The State Library owns newspaper oddities such as papers printed on wall-paper during the Civil War, when the South ran out of newsprint, reporting the capitulation of Vicksburg after the siege. Historians and writers find the State Library's vast collection of old newspapers invaluable. These bound volumes fill five and one-fourth miles of shelves. Mr. Roseberry wrote, I personally, always enjoy seeing an old local newspaper, no matter what year. For instance the "Ulster Gazette" owned by Miss Addie Anderson of 98 Hasbrouck avenue, dated Saturday, March 15, 1817 and published by S. S. & A. Freer in Kingston, in my understanding, belongs in a museum. Perhaps that famous original "Ulster County Gazette" was made from the same kind of paper, perhaps even the same type was used, as Freer was the publisher of both.

I cannot really encourage or discourage anyone about old newspapers. As far as I am concerned all old newspapers over 100 years old anyway belong in a museum. R. W. G. Vail who wrote a book on our "Ulster County Gazette" published through the New York Public Library 42nd street and Fifth avenue is the expert I always go to when it comes to any questions on the "Gazette." I refer everyone to his book. Mr. Vail's book describes in detail the "Original Gazette" of Jan. 4, 1800. For instance he writes: "It should be printed on paper used in 1800, handmade from rags, soft, pliable and rough in texture." The type of print, width of columns, is all given in his detailed description.

Lamp Winners At Kerhonkson School Announced

Marvin R. Stoddard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin A. Stoddard, Route 1, Kerhonkson, was selected as winner of the first prize in the sixth annual lamp building contest at Kerhonkson Union Free School, according to an announcement by Roland A. Riegel, principal. Stoddard, a member of the freshman class, competed with 13 other members of this high school.

Laurie E. Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Wood, Minewaska Trail, Kerhonkson, was the winner of the second place award and William G. Clayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clayton of Pataunkunk road, Kerhonkson, received third prize.

This year's competition began last November when the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, sponsors of the annual contest, made lamp building kits available to eligible students.

Selection of the winners was based on compliance to the specifications, apparent lighting, efficiency, appearance, practicability, originality of design and craftsmanship.

The winning entry is a cedar wood lamp with a light and dark cedar laminated base.

Each of the three winners at the Kerhonkson Union Free School will receive a cash award and Mr. Stoddard became eligible to have his entry judged in the grand award competition with first place winners from other area schools.

Pittsburgh Girl New U. S. Spelling Champ

Washington, May 18 (AP)—A 13-year-old Pittsburgh girl, who turned to a concentrated study of spelling two years ago, won the 29th National Spelling Bee yesterday.

She is Melody Sachko, eighth grader at Carrick Junior High. Runner-up was Sandra Owen, also 13, a seventh grade student in Sugar Creek township school in Justus, Ohio.

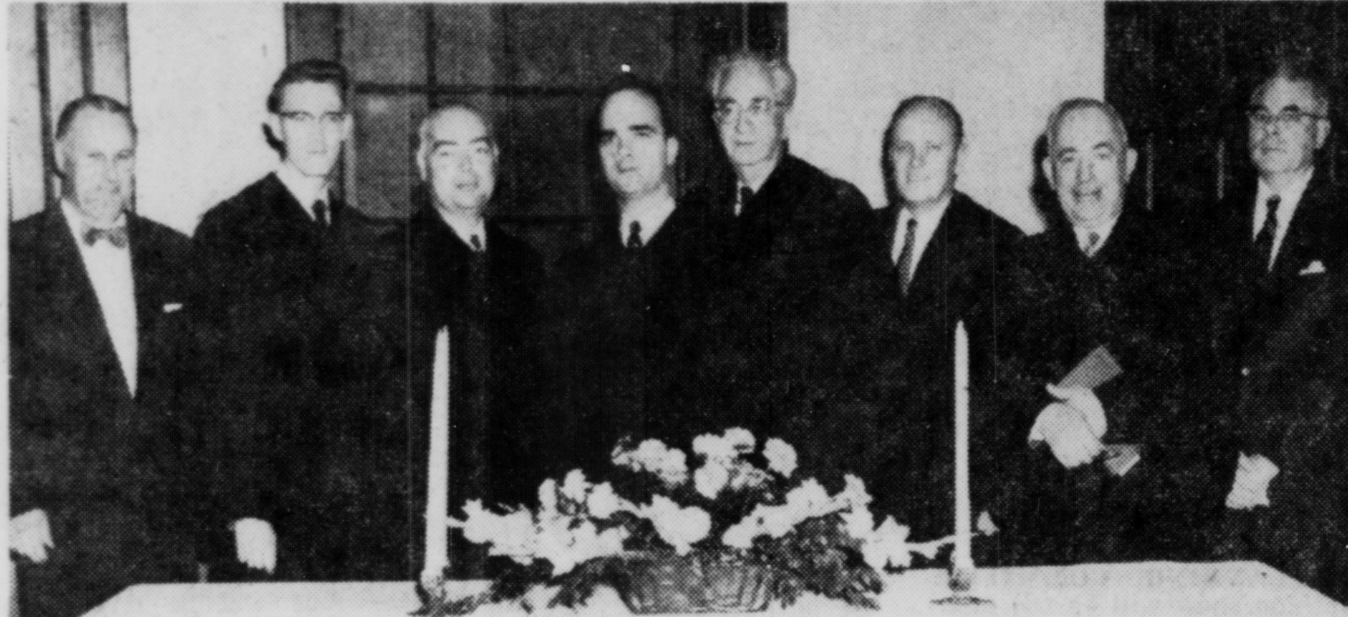

It was a second try for Melody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sachko. Two years ago the brunette girl finished sixth in the national event.

It was then, she said, that she took up a conscientious study aiming at another try for first place. The years of study paid off — with the championship title, $1,000, a gold cup and a weekend trip to New York. She outlasted 62 other contestants — a record number — through a maze of difficult and trick words.

Hurley Reformed Church to Show Vacation Film

Mountain Miracles, Word of Life's new sound, color film will be shown Wednesday at the Hurley Reformed Church at 7:30 p. m.

The picture will appeal to anyone interested in spending a vacation in the ideal way, according to Jack Wyrzten who directs the Word of Life camp program at Schroon Lake.

FOR THE ENERGETIC, play-loving youngster, the ranch fulfills every dream any boy or girl had for wanting to be a cowboy, or cowgirl, and enjoying the wide open spaces. Close supervision by trained counsellors frees mothers and dads of any worries while their children enjoy a wonderful summer vacation at Word of Life Ranch. Along with the program of outdoor activities, and wholesome meals, there is spiritual instruction given by experienced and trained children's workers.

The youth camp, situated on an 89-acre island in the northern part of Schroon Lake, means adventure for those between the ages of 14 to 25. The sports program is under the direction of one of America's outstanding athletes, Gil Dodds.

Mountain Miracles depicts life at these camps. This production was filmed only last summer, and it takes the viewer for a colorful visit to the Adirondacks.

Jamming on brakes is the most frequent cause of skidding on slippery roads.

YOUNG WOMEN TRAVELING ALONE

A reader writes me: "I am a young woman and am planning to go West very soon to visit some relatives. I am going alone and traveling by train. I will be on the train one day and one night. Never having made a long trip before, I would appreciate it very much if you will give me some pointers on behavior while traveling. For example, (1) Is it permissible to talk to strangers? Also (2) Is it proper to go into the dining car without a hat?"

Answer: (1) You may talk to another woman, of course, and also to a family. Whether you may talk to a man alone is a difficult question to answer because it depends entirely upon your astuteness in judging the type of person he is. (2) You wear one or not, as you choose. There is no rule.

Shower by Proxy

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is expecting a baby shortly. Her husband is in the service and she is with him in a distant city. A friend of hers would like to give a shower for her but, since my daughter cannot be present, I wondered if such a party would be proper.

Is there such a thing as a Proxy shower? If such a shower is possible, I thought it would be nice to have my daughter telephone (since she cannot be here in person) while the party is in progress and say something appreciative to the guests. Will you please give me your opinion of this.

Answer: It would be quite all right to give the shower, and I think it would be very pleasing to have her voice come over the telephone to greet her friends.

Greeting Those in Receiving Line
Dear Mrs. Post: When going down a long receiving line at a wedding, is it necessary to shake the hand of each person?

Answer: Not unless you know each very well and for that reason want to greet them. Ordinarily, you greet the bride and groom, and merely bow to the others as you pass by.

On what occasion does a gentleman lift his hat or remove it? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-15, "Manners in Public," answers many questions. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Armed Forces Day Program Slated Sunday at Stewart

Armed Forces Day will be observed at Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, Sunday, featuring an open house and an air show, FISH has been announced.

The open house will be from noon to 5 p. m. The air show scheduled for 3 p. m.

More than 60,000 are expected to attend the event for which elaborate preparations are being made, the announcement said.

Main features of the air show will include a mass flyover and speed runs by 12 F-86D all-weather fighter jets of the two fighter-interceptor squadrons at Stewart Air Force Base, and a practice "scramble" of two F-86D's from the ramp area on the flight line.

In addition, there will be a paratrooper (dummy) from a C-47 transport and a passover of four T-33 jet trainers. A demonstration by the army will employ two helicopters carrying out an assault mission in the area of the flight line; while the navy will send a blimp to fly over Stewart AFB.

"Power for Peace" is the forceful theme being repeated for this year's Armed Forces Day. With this in mind, Sunday's open house is intended once again to show the public how the armed forces work in unison towards their singular goal—maintaining peace through constant readiness.

Twenty-four different aircraft will be displayed to the public on the flight line during the open house.

Troy-New York Train Will Stop

Albany, N. Y., May 18 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad was authorized by the Public Service Commission today to discontinue train 144, which runs weekday afternoons between Troy and New York city.

The railroad must give 10 days' notice to the public before dropping the train. It also must provide some form of service to help Troy patrons make connections with train 90 at Albany.

The commission said it granted the Central's request because the Delaware and Hudson and Rutland Railroads no longer operate trains into Troy. Train 144 was established originally, the commission said, to provide south-bound connections for D&H and Rutland passengers arriving in Troy.

Ulysses Grant was first to have a salary of more than $25,000 as U. S. president. He began getting $50,000 for his second term.

Why We Say--

These two words are invariably found together. Some time ago, and even today, a ladder with a hook on its end was used by firemen in climbing buildings. The hook on the ladder finally was applied to fire apparatus.

Bill Introduced To Help Retailers

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) today proposed legislation to permit an automobile retailer who loses his franchise to sue the manufacturer for twofold damages in federal court.

O'Mahoney said a bill he is introducing today is designed "to balance the power now heavily weighted in favor of manufacturers."

"Unless the doors of the federal courts are opened to the automobile dealers they will continue to remain the pawns of the manufacturers," O'Mahoney said in a statement he amplified at a news conference.

O'Mahoney's bill would amend the antitrust laws to enable dealers to sue and recover double damages "by reason of the failure of automobile manufacturers to act in good faith in terminating or not renewing their franchises."

Takeout Bid Misses Game

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

South made 11 tricks with the greatest of ease in today's hand. Then the arguments began. South wouldn't feel so happy at game in clubs if West opened a spade, was one opinion. Who cared about South's happiness. North wanted to know. Just let him take the diamond finesse and he'd make five clubs even if West opened a green suit.

While this pleasant little argument went on, the players overlooked the important details. How should South bid to reach a game contract, and which game contract should he reach?

To begin with, South should respond to the takeout double with a bid of three clubs instead of a mere two. A takeout double promises a hand of greater strength than a minimum opening bid. Therefore the responder can afford to invite game if he has about eight points with good distribution.

As most experts play it, South can force to game by bidding the opponent's suit. In this case, South would bid two hearts with about another king. A jump response in a new suit is highly invitational but not completely forcing. North would pass three clubs if he had a very light takeout double. He would accept the invitation if he had sound values for his double.

In this case, South would bid three clubs, and North would have a problem. If North bid four clubs, South would bid five. If North made the somewhat delicate bid of three diamonds, South would bid three no-trump. In either case, however, South would get to a sound game contract. The important thing was to begin by bidding three clubs.

Warns Red China Gaining Ground

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today that "it looks like a stormy time ahead" unless this country acts quickly to try to offset Egypt's recognition of Red China.

Sparkman, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the recognition "shows that Communist influence has definitely established itself in the Middle East."

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said he would "not be surprised" if other members of the nine-nation Arab League follow Egypt in recognizing Peiping.

Unless something can be done to "improve our position," Mansfield said, there may be other countries in the Afro-Asian area following suit.

"As the number of countries which recognize Communist China increase, the number remaining on our side is lessened," he said.

Newburgh Academy Scores Four in Seventh to Nip KHS, 6-5

Four Unearned Tallies Jolt Maroon Hopes

Kingston High School saw a 5-2 lead evaporate in the last inning yesterday as Newburgh Free Academy rallied for four unearned runs to nip the Maroons for the second time this season, 6-5, at the Hill City.

It was a costly setback for Coach Al Gruner's team, dropping them below .500 (2-3) and ruining just about their last chance of overhauling Poughkeepsie High in the DUSO League race. With the Pioneers beating Middletown yesterday, Kingston now finds itself two full games back of the leader with three games left to play.

Two costly errors and a winning hit by Moran Kaplan, his first of the year, contributed to the nightmarish frame and helped send the Maroons down to the heart-breaking defeat. For reliever Tony Turk it was a tough game to lose after two successive wins.

THE HARD-throwing right-hander deserved a better fate after coming in in the sixth to choke off a Goldback rally with the bases loaded and none out. Turk took over from starter Al Saluste with one run in and fanned John Currey and forced Ron Baker to smash into an inning ending double play.

Frank Turk's error on Len Henderson's grounder opened the door in the fatal frame. Al Becaccio singled sending Henderson to third where he scored on an error on Jim Santacrose's bounce.

After Dom Roscino popped out, relief pitcher Rodney Coleman singled to count Becaccio. Tony Austria laid down a squeeze bunt and when Turk tossed to first, Santacrose, who hesitated momentarily, came across with the tying run. Kaplan then came through with the winning hit.

KINGSTON opened up on lefty John Steele in the first for a run on Joey Hoffman's walk, Junior Jackson's hit single and Bill Chase's sacrifice fly.

In the third, Ron Ashdown tallied from second when Frank Turk's ground ball was kicked. Turk registered moments later on Bill Cragan's one-baser.

Ashdown's triple featured a three-run fifth after Jackson had knocked over the initial run of the frame with a hit off reliever Al Becaccio with his third of the game.

Coleman took over in the sixth and stopped the locals without a hit to become the winning pitcher.

Minneapolis, May 17 (AP)—Hayes Alan Jenkins, world and Olympic figure skating champion, turned professional today to star with the internationally touring Holiday On Ice Show.

The 23-year-old Colorado College student, supreme figure in men's skating for the last four years, declined to spell out terms of the contract he signed today.

But a show spokesman said Jenkins would get in the neighborhood of $1500 weekly for summer appearances this year and in 1957.

Onteora Scores Over Marlboro Nine, 14-3

Onteora Central School moved into a deadlock for third place in the Ulster County Athletic League by whipping Marlboro Central, 14-3, yesterday at Marlboro.

The win squared the Indians' record at 3-3 and tied them with Marlboro.

Lou Vanacore made his first start in the UCL as a good one, spacing seven hits for the win. It wasn't until the seventh inning that the Ducks scored their runs.

Onteora collected just half as many hits as it tallied in every inning but the second. Marlboro used three pitchers in an attempt to halt the rampaging Indians, with starter Mike Caserto getting tagged with the loss. He was followed by Richie Mandia and Kent Kadick.

OPTICAL ILLUSION—Bill Bezzaro, Highland High third sacker, seems to be in the process of getting cooked by a relay in a hit UCL action against Saugerties High. He wasn't touched as this remarkable camera shot by Sam Anzalone might indicate. (Freeman photo)

Saugerties Baseball Club of the New York-New Jersey League plucked Clark Mains right from under the magnifying glasses of Fred Davi's baseball sleuths.

But the kidnapping of the talented ex-Kingston High and New York Giant farm system right hander will not precipitate a jurisdictional rhabarb. Rather it should add spice to the Colonial-Saugerties rivalry this summer.

And we think it's about time the upriver village nine came up with a name a little sportier than Saugerties Baseball Club. Matter of fact they're conducting a nickname contest at the moment.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Newburgh Dodge Jewels have acquired the Walden baseball field for home games in the New York-New Jersey League. That puts the NY-NJ on a solid 9-team, home-and-home basis.

A tip of the hat to Frank Provenzano of the Hamburger Paradise bowling team for his 635 singles score in the ABC Nationals at Rochester. Frank reeled off a hat trick of 201, 214 and 210. . . . The Richard Allen Youth group expects to announce its sports program for the summer as soon as the Recreation Department makes playing sites available. . . . Veteran Jim Roe spanked a 279 high single for the Independent bowling league. . . . To the utter surprise of nobody, Charlie Gruenwald fired 661 (high series) and 188.12 high average. Many of the railbirds are picking Bobo Olson to reclaim the middleweight crown from Sugar Ray Robinson Friday night.

Of Men and Mice:

Bonnie Reilly, who has made remarkable progress as a bowler the past couple seasons moved into the elite group when she slammed the maples for a 161.82 mark in the Central Rec Mixed. Nellie Alverson's rousing 166.29 in the Friendship "A" loop also put the spotlight on the New Paltz star as one of the area's best. Marie Kelekan, Elizabeth Bruck, Elizabeth Egan and Dot Rawding complete the big circle. Rose Schatzel, of course, is unchanged in the No. 1 spot and Mrs. Sawdell, despite her brilliant 176.84, is second behind The Queen, a role occupied for many years by Evelyn Gross. The 150 average is still highly coveted achievement for local women bowlers. Of the 80 keeglerettes in both divisions of the Friendship League—a fairly accurate cross section of the area—only 15 women hit "150" or better. Aside from the "160" trundlers the others were Ann Manfro, Rose Helen Mellert, Joan Krueger, Phyl Gehringer, Reta Frederick, Judy Bell, Christie Wilson, Matilda Bruck, Bety Sass and Dorothy Bell. Other leagues will add a few names to the list but on the whole 150 is still something to crow about.

Joseph R. Mizerek, a plant engineer at IBM, has developed a deadly fish catcher which he calls "Strike." It is a liquid lure which when applied to live bait or plugs is deadly, says Mr. Mizerek, who developed the poison in 1952. He also developed numerous other fishing and hunting aids to the sportsman which were produced by his Zerek Enterprises which he sold last week. He is presently working part time as a gunsmith at Stone Ridge. . . . And speaking of fish, first results of the $5,135 Louis A. Wehle New York State fishing contest, just issued, indicates that Catherine's Creek is still the most productive spot in the state for Rainbow trout. All three winners in this classification were taken in "The Creek," led by a 16 pound, eight ounce beauty registered by Elden J. Johnson of Millport.

Artie MacDaniel of Shady, hiking with friends on the Overlook Hotel-Echo Lake road, on a remote section of Overlook mountain, recently, chanced upon a large wildcat. MacDaniel reported the cat was as large as a fair sized boxer dog. He said his friends measured the footprints of the animal and found they spanned three inches. When the animal saw the group, says Mr. MacDaniel, he took off in great haste and they were not permitted much more than a glimpse of him. . . . Obviously he was the cat with the mostest.

Williamsport Boosts Lead

(By The Associated Press)

Pitcher Chuck Bullock helped to win his own game last night by scoring one of the two ninth-inning runs with which the Williamsport Grays scored a 2-1, come-from-behind victory over the Binghamton Triplets.

The victory enabled the Grays to stretch their Eastern League lead from a game and a half to two games.

THE SCHENECTADY Blue Jays, who had been alone in second, took the opener of a home twinbill with the Allentown Redbirds 6-2, but dropped the nightcap 2-0. The split put them in a second-place tie with the Reading Indians, who whipped the host Albany Senators 8-6.

At Syracuse, the cellar-dwelling Johnstown Johnnies downed the Chiefs 5-1.

The only run against Bullock, who pitched shutout ball for the first five innings at Binghamton, was unearned. In the batting department, Bullock, singled with two out in the ninth after Bob Flynn had homered. He advanced to second on a wild pitch, and scored on Tony Bartirome's single.

It was the third loss in five games for Middletown and dropped it into a third place tie with Kingston.

Fair Weather Seen For Much of Nation

(By The Associated Press)

There were a few wet spots, but generally fair weather was the outlook for most of the nation today.

Main wet belts during the night were in the lower Great Lakes region and the middle Atlantic coast states. Falls generally were light although a little more than one inch was reported at Salisbury, Md.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms were reported in parts of North Dakota and Minnesota while widely scattered showers sprinkled sections of the far west.

Warm weather continued over the western half of the country although there was some cooling along the California coast. Biggest temperature advances this morning were in the central plains with readings up 18 degrees to 72 at Winnemucca, Nev.

Hot Shoppes Are

bor Mediation Board have thus far failed to bring about any agreement. New York State Federation of Labor, representing two million union employees, has addressed a letter to all its affiliates urging them to support Local 11 in this dispute, Ferrara said. The Federation has also protested to Thruway Authority and Governor Harriman awarding of Thruway franchise to Hot Shoppes.

Picketing of nine Hot Shoppe units has resulted in a delay of construction schedules for the summer season and is a considerable loss of revenue to the Thruway Authority, which receives approximately 15 per cent of each dollar spent by motorists in Thruway restaurants. Hot Shoppes contend they are not opposing employees selection of a bargaining agency but since they have not selected Local 11, or any other union, they claim there is no authorized agency to negotiate with. Hot Shoppe officials allege their employees are not interested in joining Local 11 since their own benefits to employees are more liberal and far reaching than those offered by the union.

Decision Reserved

Troy, N. Y., May 18 (AP)—Justice William Deckelman of state Supreme Court today reserved decision on a move to prevent the state agriculture commissioner from conducting a referendum on a proposed milk-regulating order for the Syracuse marketing area. A permanent restraining order was sought by the Syracuse Cooperating Milk Distributors Bargaining Agency Inc. on the ground Commissioner Daniel J. Carey exceeded his powers in ordering a referendum. The city of Syracuse asked permission to intervene on the side of the distributors. John Barnell, assistant corporation counsel, said the city should be allowed to intervene on behalf of Syracuse and Onondaga county residents because "we are the people paying the bills."

Raps Security Program

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.) said today "I'd hate to see" Harry P. Cain dropped from the Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB) "for telling the truth" about the administration's employee security program. Cain, who frequently has criticized the program during the last 16 months, made one of his sharpest attacks last night in a Denver speech that sounded as though he did not expect President Eisenhower to reappoint him to the board. "My usefulness to the President . . . is, I believe, rapidly drawing to a close," the former Republican senator from Washington told his audience.

TO ENTERTAIN MASONS—The three Kelder brothers, Richard, Garry and Warren will be featured on the entertainment program of Roundout Lodge 343, F & AM, for ladies' night, Monday at 8 p. m. in Masonic Temple, Albany avenue, following a dinner for the officers and their wives. Besides this song and dance trio, there will be entertainment by the Onteora School dance band; Jerome Singer, pianist; Margaret A. Kiss, soloist and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schilling, who do a memory routine.

Wilson Found Guilty

Philadelphia, May 18 (AP)—A Quarter Session Court jury today found Raymond P. Wilson, 33-year-old former convict guilty of the strangle slaying of Mrs. Lulubel Rossman last July 3 and recommended life imprisonment. Wilson, from Tulsa, Okla., had been accused—as well as three other men, to be tried later—with killing the wealthy 76-year-old Philadelphia widow in her hotel room and stealing more than $100,000, mostly in $100 bills. The jury of seven women and five men were given the case late yesterday afternoon and were held overnight for a resumption of deliberations this morning after they were unable to reach a verdict last night.

Third Day for Jury

Newburyport, Mass., May 18 (AP)—A grand jury convened today for the third day of testimony in the re-opened probe of the two-year-old murder of Melvin W. Clark Jr., 29, whose widow is serving a life term for the crime. Today's first witness was State Police Lt. Gerald F. McCarthy, who took part in the original investigation which terminated in Mrs. Lorraine Clark, 30, pleading guilty to murder in the second degree. The attractive, self-confessed murderess, who yesterday completed four hours of testimony, was at the courthouse again today—ready to be recalled if the grand jury sought to question her further.

Kill 20 Rebels

Algiers, Algeria, May 18 (AP)—French police and foreign legionnaires pounced on a band of about 50 Nationalist rebels hiding in a wheat field today. They reported killing 20. Officials of Brea, two miles northeast of Tlemcen in western Algeria, said the French forces also captured many army rifles, pistols, and fire bombs. One of the slain rebels was identified as Ben Hamida, an Arab deserter from the French army. He and six of his companions had slipped away from a transport company at Tlemcen.

Acetylene Tank Explodes

Bloomington firemen were called to Eddyville Thursday night where an exploding acetylene tank at the Buck junk yard set fire to the car on which the men were working and also to tires in the yard. A large oxygen tank was in the fire but did not explode. No one was injured. The call came at 6:25 and the recall was at 7:25. The department responded under the direction of Fire Chief Warren Prandoni.

Bid on Orpheum

Los Angeles, May 18 (AP)—The search continues for L. Ewing Scott, who vanished as mysteriously this month as his wealthy wife did a year ago, but authorities say they haven't a clue to his whereabouts. Scott, 59-year-old investment counselor, has been sought since last Tuesday when he failed to appear for a hearing in connection with a 13-count indictment charging forgery and grand theft in the handling of his wife's $600,000 estate. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest and his $25,000 bond was forfeited.

"IT IS PLANNED to readvertise this property and from information received there will be considerable more interest shown the next time it is offered for sale. I believe that it is good business to again offer it for sale and try to regain the amount the city is entitled to receive."

Other bids included $1,250 for three lots on Sylvester street, $600 for a building and lot on Glen street, $500 for a 20-acre tract off Albert street, and $260 for a property near that owned by the Kingston Power Boat Association, Abeel street, which was bid in by the association.

OTHER BIDDERS on the Orpheum property were William E. Gaffken, of Hurley, a member of the insurance firm of Tremper, Gaffken & McEntee, and Adele Bregman, of 126 Broadway. The mayor indicated at the time the bid was received for the theatre building that it would not be accepted.

William S. Keyser, of 167 Tremper avenue, second ward alderman, bid the $1,250 for the three lots on Sylvester street. The bid on one was $650, and the others were $250 and $350. Timothy J. Doyle, of 206 Ten Broeck avenue, bid $600 on the Glen street property, and John Osterhout, of Route 1, Box 20, bid the $500 for the 20-acre tract off Albert street.

Other bidding was on a variety of properties acquired by the city through tax default.

Adenauer to Visit U. S.

Bonn, Germany, May 18 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will make an eight-day visit to the United States next month, a government spokesman announced today. He said the 60-year-old chancellor will have talks in Washington with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Tax Cut Not

receipts will total $67,700,000,000, budget expenditures $65,900,000,000 billion, resulting in an estimated budget surplus for 1956 of $1,828,000,000, which will make a most welcome reduction in our huge national debt."

As compared with the figures in Eisenhower's January budget message, estimated federal income and spending both were up the former more than the latter. Although seemingly in agreement with the administration on tax plans, Democrats didn't close the door against a possibility of any tax relief this year.

GO FIGHT CITY HALL

Number 3

Ever since the campaign to convert North Front Street and Clinton Avenue back to two-way streets I have been receiving strong moral support from the parents of children living in the once residential areas. Their greatest fear is for the safety of their children who now must play in streets covered with a much greater flow of traffic. One result of the one-way program has been the increase in accidents and near accidents in the uptown section. In spite of this the mayor refuses to allow a trial period on North Front Street which was widened for two-way traffic several years ago, and stubbornly insists that traffic be forced over inadequate streets.

Many other merchants are contributing to the cost of these ads, and we urge civic response by letters and post cards expressing your views in this important issue. We admit that we may not have the perfect solution to this problem but feel that we should have the opportunity to see if our plan would work. What do you think?
